Leah Childers, Karla Childs* (kchilds@pittstate.edu) and Bobby Winters. How to start a discussion on your campus about assessing general education mathematics.

Pittsburg State University called a task force to explore general education mathematics across campus. In addition, the task force was charged to develop an assessment instrument for general education mathematics. We will discuss how we engaged the campus at large, resources we found helpful, and the findings from the task force. (Received September 15, 2011)
